The Damage by the Flood-The Farmers Rather Cheerful-The Firemen-A Marrow Escape.

[Special telegram to the Dispatch.] Charlottsville, Va., June 4, 1889.
Yesterday was County Court here. The cather was fair and there was a large number of country people from this and the sur-rounding countres in town.

Farmers from different sections of the and jury of the county yesterday brought in several indictments for felony, and the cases will be tried at this term of the Court. The court was in session

The following county supervisers, who were elected at the recent election, qualified yesterday: Hon. J. B. Moon, of Charlottes-ville district; Mr. W. G. Page, Samuel Miller district; B. T. Parrott, White Hall district; and N. C. McGhee, of ly district, Messrs. H. M. Magruder, of Rivanna district, are yet to qualify. The above supervisors are all liverises. trict, are yet to qualify. The above supervisors are all Democrats, and all the offices of the county are in the hands of the crats for the next term as a result of the recent election.

The final exercises at Pantops Academy, near Charlottesville, will take place to-mor-row, and they promise to be very interesting.

A dinner was given yesterday at the City-Hall property for the benefit of the Charlottesville Brass Band. At night a lawn-party and festival was also given, and was well attended, although the weather was somewhat inciement. The band furnished some of their best music, and the whole affair was a success and was quite enjoyable.

On Thursday Mr. Hancock re-Trings to this city from Johns Hopkins University, where he had been attending school. Friday morning his father, Captain Hancock, a prominent citizen of this county, sent in an ordinary family carriage for his son, and while returning home the occu-pants crossed Houchen's branch, a small stream which had been swollen by the rates. The colored driver drove into the stream before he found it was a wollon. The carriage began to float and just as it was turning over Mr. Hancock jumped out and swam to the opposite bank. The top of the carriage floated some distance down the stream. The driver escaped by swimming out and afterwards cut the horses from the running-gear and so saved them. W.

fCorrespondence of the Richmond Dispatch.1 TOANO, Va., June 3, 1889.
Miss Mary B. Jones, while attending to some hatching chickens a few days ago, was a little surprised to see two huge black snakes coiled up in the caves of her honhouse. Nothing daunted she procured a hoe and heroically made it do the scriptural duty of bruising. Upon examination it was found that the snakes had calen only the good, fresh eggs. Old Mr. Jones, who has lived upon the banks of the Chickshominy for fifty years, and is, of course, good authority on reptiles, says snakes know rotten eggs as well as he does, and that after swallowing the whole eggs they crush them by ceiling themselves up tightly. ondence of the Richmond Dispatch.

the whole eggs they crush them by contage themseives up tightly.

The young ladies and gentlemen of Toano propose giving a grand entertainment next. Thursday night at Hickory Neck Academy, the proceeds of which are to be equally divided between the two neighboring Sunday schools. Those who know the determination to excel that stimulates these amateurs anticipate a royal feast.

The incessant and excessive rains of the past two months have ruinously retarded all farming operations. Some fields have been ploughed up and planted two or three times, and those that have tolerable stands of corn are grassy enough to afford good pasturage. PENINSULA.

Damage at the Chesterfield Quarries. [Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.] GRANTE, June 3, 1886.

Perhaps the greatest excatoment ever witpessed in the quarrying district of ChesterBeld county prevaied this morning when the news spread that the breaking of the old "Duval mill-dam," about two miles and a half from Granite, had swept away the embankment between the Powhite creek and the main quarry of the Virginia Siate-Granite Company, thus filling the aperture with at least sixty feet of water. This will throw shout 150 made out of employment, and at least sixty feet of water. This will throw shout 150 hands out of employment, and from all indications may be the cause of totally abandoning the quarry by the company. Fortunately the session is a good one for laborers and men accustomed to quarry work generally, other wise the workmen would be great sufferers from the calamity. As it is, however, the company, consisting mainly of Ohlo gentlemen, will be the greatest losers. The lower quarry of the Westham Grantle Company, about three miles up the river, it also reported tail of water, but the loss in this case cannot exceed $1,000. Seventy or citatry uses will be thrown out of employment temporarity.

The water in this case came from a dama above the quarry which had been placed there to keep a small stream from flowing in the opening. It is runnored here this morning that learn incline will be taken against the owner of the mill-pond, but the truth of the assertion cunnot be verified, as the property-owners (all except an old frishman, who awears vengeance) are very reticent as to their course in the matter.

The new quarries of Messrs, Rennie and Melntosh, togarding which the United States supervising Are lettert said "they produce the best unblemished blue granite in America," have been but slightly damaged by the flood, and will resume operations as soon as the weather have the second states.

the weather permits.

The rainfail here has been the heaviest ever known even to the oldest farmers, and crops are greatly injured.

The trestles on the Westham siding of the Richmond and Danville railroad have been partly swept away, while the county-road bridge over the Powhite creek just above ranile is rendered useless.

From all indications the losu sustained by the Virginia Siste-Granite Company is $10,000, but should another heavy ram succeed what we have already had this amount can sately be doubled. A rough esculation shows that the quarry has been filled with about 20,422,000 cubic feet of water, mud.

about 30, and character. and debris of all character.

Jones's mili and King's mill, on Notioway river, and Chandler's mill, on White Ohk creek, were swept away and totally destroyed, and every other mill or mill-dam in the county was severely wrecked. The dam at Hobbs's mill, that has been standing for at least one hundred years, was broken. I learn from a reliable source that four valuable cours were directed on the meetiow at ble cows were drowned on the meadow a Worsham's mill. I have heard of no loss of pan life.

It will cost the county not less than $5,000 to replace the bridges. It is impossible to estimate the damage to private property from the loss of fences and land washed Hollywood Association-Graves o Georgians.

Farmers from different sections of the county report a beavy rainfall which washed the crops on the uplands but did no serious farmage. The main damage was done to the low-land crops, which were badly washed and covered up with sand, mud, and debris. The early fruit was injured to some extent by the rain. Our farmers, although locers in many cases, do not seem to be discouraged at the damage by the freshet, but are thankfall that the freshet did not do as much damage to their crops as was done to those of many other portions of the State.

No. 13 Eleventh street. BEAUTIFUL BUILDING LOTS IN EAST-END NEAR CHIMBORAZO PARK.
I will sell at auction
FRIDAY, JUNE 77H,

at 5 o'clock P. M., on the premises, SIX BEAUTIFUL BUILDING LOTS at corner of Marshall and Thirty-sixth streets. These lots are located on an eminence overlooking Chimborato Park and in a section that has grown in value in the past two years—faster than has the West End or any other suburban property.
Immediately after the above-leserthed lots are sold I will offer other very astractive LOTS, some of which front immediately on the Park, and will be sold, if necessary, at prices much lower than adjacent property is held at.
Every man who hopes to build a house in the next few years should attend this sale and secure a lot now while still low, as there is nothing in any direction with no undestrable surroundings that can be had at prices that are expected.

TERMS: At sale.

ATTRACTIVE AND ELIGIBLY-LOCATED WEST-END BUILDING LOTS ON PLOYD STREET, IN SIZES TO SUIT,

AT AUCTION. ON THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1889, on THURSDAY, JUNE 6, 1899, at 5 to octook P. M., I will sell, on the premises, s6 FEET OF VALUABLE GROUND located at the northeast corner of Floyd and Plum streets, to be divided into Buildbing LOPs of about 22

feet each, or larger fronts if desired.
The attractiveness of the street generally and the number and character of residences now going up in this vicinity render these lots especially desirable, and whilst they will not sein at this time for fancy prices, the day is not distant when they will.
